

Overseas scientific internship of doctoral student

In November 2018, at the Institute of Russian Studies, Faculty of Philology, University of Lodz (Poland) the scientific internship of the doctoral student of the Russian Language and Literature Department Tolganai Kurmanbaeva was completed.

During the internship, the doctoral student worked with a rich electronic and catalogue collection, bibliographic databases of the main library of the University of Lodz, the library of the Institute of Russian Studies.

Consultations of a foreign scientific adviser and consultant Yaroslav Wezhbinsky, Doctor of Philology, Professor, Director of the Institute of Russian Studies, University of Lodz, Head of the Department of Linguistics was very useful.

The result of the work will be a section of the thesis in which a block of materials from the funds of the libraries of the University of Lodz will be actively used.

